Planning Matters!

In the coming weeks the ‘local plan’ will be considered to be mid term and with all of the planning policy changes nationally there’s a great deal of interest and concern as to what is happening with respect to planning matters, particularly smaller infill housing sites of land in villages. In September I shall be asking for more clarity as to how planning applications are likely to be viewed given the call for more housing.

Suffolk Council - HERE For You!

Following a successful series of events last year, East Suffolk officers and councillors will be visiting towns around the district again this summer, chatting to local people about council services and asking how they feel about what we do.

Events have taken place in Saxmundham, Lowestoft, Kesgrave and Beccles this year, and will be followed by Beccles in July, Felixstowe and Southwold in August before finishing in Framlingham in September.

Councillors and senior officers will be present to listen to local people and chat about our plans, our services and how we are looking to improve lives and outcomes not only in the towns we visit but throughout East Suffolk.

East Suffolk Council - HERE For You! Come and find us at:

6 August - Felixstowe

27 August - Southwold

24 September - Framlingham

All events are from 10am until 1pm.

Helping town and parishes to support nature

Prepared by environmental charity Groundwork East on behalf of East Suffolk Council, a new toolkit is now available for town and parish councils to support conservation in their local area.

As part of the Council's Nature at Work scheme, the toolkit contains branded graphics for town and parish councils to use online to promote their involvement with the conservation scheme, which has created 116 wild spaces across East Suffolk which are being left to grow over the summer.

New signs have been installed on council-owned land across the district to help identify the wild areas where grass cutting will be limited to twice per year for the benefit of pollinators such as bees and butterflies. The signs feature a QR code directing people to further information about the scheme, including how residents and community groups can get involved. A map of all the sites is available, and photos from the locations will be added throughout the year.

Groundwork East is currently working with town and parish councils to build awareness of the sites, and these councils are encouraged to help monitor the sites to better understand what species are present and how the sites are changing.

GLI Cllr Sally Noble, East Suffolk's cabinet member for the Environment said: "Nature at Work aims to respond to the climate emergency and biodiversity crisis by supporting nature at small-scale community sites across East Suffolk. The refreshed scheme has a new focus this year, working with local schools, town and parish councils and community groups to raise awareness of the benefits of the Nature at Work scheme and encouraging people to consider how they can get involved in their own garden or community space."

A guide to making a wildflower meadow, a species guide and information regarding funding opportunities for town and parish councils is also available.

Town and parish councils are also invited to a free webinar on Wednesday 20 August (9am – 11am) to introduce the toolkit and find out more about the Nature at Work scheme, including the benefits of green spaces, ideas for funding and how to monitor and record the wildlife in your town and parish.

Get involved in planning the future of your local area

East Suffolk residents are invited to give their views on how they would best like to receive information about future planning consultations.

East Suffolk Council is seeking feedback on how communities would like to be involved in the process of preparing planning policy documents such as Local Plans, Design Codes, neighbourhood plans, and planning guidance.

Residents are invited to complete a short questionnaire, available at:
tinyurl.com/4y8zzpxn

Printed versions are available from local libraries.

Information provided through this questionnaire will inform the Council's future consultation and engagement processes for planning policy document preparation and will be used to update the Council's Statement of Community Involvement (SCI).

GLI Cllr Mark Packard, East Suffolk's cabinet member for Planning and Coastal Management, said: "How we plan for new homes, schools, employment and infrastructure affects everyone who lives in, works in or visits the district and so it is important that our communities can help shape planning policy and guidance. Whether you are an East Suffolk resident, business, developer, community organisation, or a town or parish council, we would like to hear your views on how we can best engage, inform, and consult with you during these processes."

The questionnaire closes on 3 September 2025.

If you have any questions about the consultation, please call 01394 444557, email planningpolicy@eastsoffolk.gov.uk, or write to East Suffolk Council, Planning Policy and Delivery Team, Riverside, 4 Canning Road, Lowestoft, Suffolk NR33 0EQ.
